

ABSTRACT

[0036] A system and method for restricting access to a wireless local area network by a client based on the location of such client, such that access is denied or withdrawn to a client who is outside of such permitted area.